The National Black Church Initiative Calls on Senator John Flanagan, Governor Andrew Cuomo and Assembly Speaker Carl Heastie to Stop Blocking the Way and Pass Margaret Markey's Child Victims Act A2872A/S63A

NBCI has 1,200 churches in the State of New York

Washington, DC – The National Black Church Initiative (NBCI), a faith-based coalition of 34,000 churches comprised of 15 denominations and 15.7 million African Americans plead with Senator John Flanagan, Governor Andrew Cuomo and Assembly Speaker Carl Heastie to stop blocking the passage of Margaret Markey's Child Victims Act A2872A/S63A.

Assembly Woman Margaret Markey and the National Black Church Initiative and SNAP has been working over the past 4 years to move the New York General Assembly to amend the statute of limitation laws regarding child abuse issues. It is baffling to the Black Church why these three politicians will not defend the dignity of our children and protect their innocence.

Rev. Anthony Evans, the President of the National Black Church Initiative, “We commend Margaret Markey of her tireless efforts to get this Legislation done on behalf of all our kids to protect them from sexual predators. Our entire coalition of churches around the country and the 1,200 churches in the state of New York stand with her and plead for the passage of A2872A/S63A. I must say that we are tired of pleading with politicians to do the right thing. I am authorizing the peaceful demonstrations at the offices of the Governor, Senator and Assembly Speaker which will commence soon if there is no movement to this moral plea.”

We plead in the name of our Lord and Savior Jesus the Christ, and God Almighty that you will have a conscience for God’s innocence and cooperate with Margaret Markey and pass that Bill this year.
