Rev. Anthony Evans, President of The National Black Church Initiative Has Sent Letters To Black, White and Latino Denominations Asking Them To Censor President Trump's Racist Remarks

This is a dramatic move by the Church

Washington DC – The National Black Church Initiative (NBCI) a faith-based coalition of 34,000 churches comprised of 15 denominations and 15.7 million African Americans, has sent letters to all the major Black, White and Latino denominations to ask them to prepare Church edicts and resolutions to denounce the President's repeated racist statements since the election. Rev. Evans is encouraging every single major denomination to do so regardless of race or theology because it undermines the principal of our democracy and our Church principles. God loves everyone equally, he does not have any respective person.

Rev. Anthony Evans, President of the National Black Church Initiative says, "The Church can no longer stand by and allow this President to continue to insult the dignity of people. It is not so much that he has targeted African Americans, Africans, Latinos and Haitians, what is most disturbing about this, is that the President of the United States does not possess the human quality of compassion and love. One can literally say that we have elected a non-human into the highest office of the land. Let it be clear that we are not attacking the President because we support CNN or MSNBC or even Fox. We are taking this unusual step for the first time in the history of the Church to ask each denomination through resolutions or edicts to denounce this President as a racist and his remarks as filled with interposition and nullification.”

Whites, for years, thought that they were better and closer and cleaner than African Americans and they suffer under the false religious pretense of thinking that God himself was white. Of course, this is not true, never has been true and never will be true. Even whites have come to the recognition that God has no color and that he is an impartial judge of human character. Thus, concluding in their theological analysis, that whites can go to Hell just as fast as anyone else.

It seems as though, because of the plurality of President Trump’s racist announcement of every single racial ethnic group in America, that he deems himself and whites above all other races. President Trump suffers from spiritual narcissism and he feels superior and emboldened to say as he feels. The Scriptures are clear, only a fool does this.
